Petition for Dog Leash Law Awaiting Aldermanic Action

A new move has been started for the adoption of a dog leash law which would prohibit canines from running at large in Newton.

Mrs. Mariorie L. Edenfeld of 120 Dedham street. Newton Highlands, has filed a petition with the Board of Aldermen requesting the enactment of a new ordinance which would restrict the activities of the city's dog population.

years ago, when the Newton West team won the New Eng-land championship. As a re-sult, the Aldermen approved the appropriation to provide men, personally or through their legal representative, that the proposed widening would serve only to speed traffic at the intersection, and that a better solution of the problem would be better police protect tion and more enforcement of the traffic laws at the crucial times of day. Some residents of Crafts St. maintained that widening would involve substantial landtaking, would increase traffice flow, would change their street from a resdential one to a heavily traveled highway, and would be of no benefit to the entire area. They suggested that elimination of the left turn from Crafts into California would help to solve the problem.

Ask For Five Cab Locations

The taxicab petition was filed by Mrs. Violet G. Sylvester of 459 Auburn st., Auburn dale, who asked for five new cab licenses and four new stand locations as follows: 1-Opposite and across from 83 Wyman st., Waban, 2-On the south side of Washington st. opposite Newton - Wellesley Hospital. 3—In front of 117 Elm st., West Newton. 4—On Chapel st. 160 feet from Watertown st.

Arthur McLaughlin, attor-ney for Mrs. Sylvester, told the Aldermen that his client was without experience in the taxicab business, but that she had available experienced em-ployees, and that she saw the need for additional cab service in Newton. She had made a cursory survey in Auburn-dale, he added, and obtained 195 signatures to a petition for added service. He said that the existing service was so inadequate that Waltham cabs, which pay no Newton tax, were responding to calls from Newton persons. Mrs. Sylvester stands ready to co-operate fully with city offi-cials and the police, he con-cluded.

In reply to questioning by Aldermen Franklin N. Flaschner, Harry H. Ham Jr., and John P. Nixon, Atty. McLaughlin said that his client was willing to accept fewer than the requested five licenses and four stands. provided she was given more than one taxi license.

Opposition came from near ly all the present taxicab com panies, whose major spokes man was the president of the Newton Taxi Owners Associ ation and owner of the Vet erans Cab Company, who pointed out that most of the owners intended to add to their fleet, and therefore, he said, any additional licenses should go to them rather than to a newcomer in the field.

Political Highlights

How to correct this situation could well be one of the most important matters which the present Legislature will consider, for it deals with the treatment of ailing people, most of them in the twilight of their lives and no longer able to care for themselves.

Many persons take elderly fathers and mothers to nursing homes because they simply don't have the means or facilities to care adequately for them at

They have a right to expect that the patients they entrust to the managers of nursing homes will be fed and cared for properly, that their needs will be attended to and that they will be treated with kindness and dignity.

Arrangements have been made to hold the polio feeding clinics for the adult population at Newton City Hall, Warren Junior High School, and the Oak Hill School, the latter site because of its parking facilities.

SCHEDULE AT THREE CLINICS FOR ADULTS

Each of these locations will clinics, on Sunday, March 17th fr'om 2 to 5 p.m.. on Wednesday, March 20th on Wednesday, March from 7 to 9 p.m., and on Sunday, March 24th, from 2 to 5 p.m. A voluntary contribu-tion of twenty-five cents will be accepted from those aged nineteen and over to help defray the costs.

Volunteers from the New-ton Tuberculosis and Health Association, the League of Women Voters, Newton Red Cross Chapter, American Le-gion and the Newton Police and Fire Departments will assist at this second phase as they did in the January pro-ject. Newton school nurses will be in charge of the vaccine feedings at the schools.

director of public health in Newton, stressed the importance of the polio immunization campaign. stated that it is vital for all residents from age three months and up to take the vaccine at the clinics.

Dr. Greenleaf also stated that medical authorities the point that people of all ages, young and old, should take the Sabin oral feedings.

Chairman Basbas wished to emphasize that parental or guardian consent is required or all those under legal age taking the vaccine. Forms covering this item will be available at all Newton clinics

A ther important point brought out by Mr. Basbas is that those who did is that those who did not have the opportunity of starting their polio protection with the Type I feeding clinics held in January, can start with the Type II vaccine and get Type I at a later date. In other words, it is not necessary to take the Type I, II and III feedings in sequence.

As with the Type I vaccine, the Type II oral vaccine will be administered on lumps of sugar on which the thr drops per feeding are placed.

the first time. Don't you think about now I should get over this? Do you have any helpful ideas on this problem?

M. D.

I don't think age has too much to do with your problem. If you try to act natural and make every effort to forget yourself, you will find this sensitivity lessen. This is a very com mon complaint. "Hello" will always take care of your own age group, while "How do you do" is quite correct for the parent set.

I am wearing a strapless dress to our school prom. How can I get my date to send me an arm corsage?

This an easy one. Just wait till your date asks you what color dress you are of a corsage that you can wear.

Will you please tell me what you consider the correct for me? B. L.

Dear B. L.,

I don't think it correct to make anyone wait for you. Just why make him wait at all? If you are thoughtful (you'll be ready. More than five minutes should have a good explanation. Why give him time to wish he'd asked another girl?

I am a junior in high school. I am going steady and my girl loves to dance. I don't know much about dancing and I don't want my girl to teach me. Should I take professional lessons? Tom.

Why not? Do take a few lessons. When you've mas-tered the basic rules and steps, start practicing with your feminine relatives. It's best to master any subject. You'll have more fun this way.

ed as the major discussion subject at Monday night's meeting of the Newton School Committee, whose members gave indication that, like a certain Sunday evening TV program sponsor, they consider progress their most important product.

During the meeting's course, they listened to evidence that here in Newton there is cause for great satisfaction with the manner in which progress is being made.

It came from two sources— an article in the current issue of a widely circulated national magazine that contains high praise of this city's advanced education methods, and a young woman physician who reported on the unqualified success of a program under which Newton's population of retired men and women is pitching in with volunteer help that relieves school nurses of the burden of a great mass of clerical work so they can give more time to nursing care. Also, the retirees perform other tasks that smooth the path of school progress, she explained.

Foundation money is being very well put to use in this city of 92,000 to try out continuous learning and other experiments, and to extend team-teaching plan.

Later, when it came time to take up "new business", the chairman asked Francis P. Frazier, committeeman from Ward 1, to read aloud that part of the article relating to Newton, "even if doing so might constitute our giving ourselves a pat on the back."

Mr. Frazier read the entire three paragraphs, including the one in which Bettina King, principal of Meadowbrook Junior High School, is quoted the continuous-learning program being launched there, and which she described at length during the board's pre-vious meeting. The quote: "We have talked and talk-

The report on the program to utilize the services of re-tired persons was made by Dr. Dorothy Worth of Community Service Associates, whose project, in effect with the schools' and the city's health department co-opera-tion, is financed by a U.S. Public Health Service grant.

The program started here six months ago, she began,

Political Highlights

Except for Speaker John F. Thompson and Democratic State Committee Chairman Gerard F. Doherty, who for political reasons are backing Peabody's proal, the Governor has received no real support.

Even city and town officials, who would welcome additional funds from the State, have either been restrained in their comments or have said nothing.

Peabody would have attracted far more support and aroused much less opposition if he had advocated a limited sales tax.

On Beacon Hill, where political paradoxes are common, it caused no more than a minor raising of Peabody is asking the people Memorial School. eyebrows that Speaker Thompson, whom Peabody sought to oust from his post as the presiding officer of the House, was the only top legislative leader to back the Governor's income tax package.

Thompson's enthusiasm for the tax proposal may not be quite as unbounded as one might gather from the hearty manner in which he took it to his political bosom and gave it his unqualified endorsement.

In stepping up onto the firing line to fight shoulder to shoulder with Peabody in a cause which already is clearly lost, Thompson is placing Peabody in a position where the latter could hardly make another effort to give Thompson the heave-ho from the Speakership without being guilty of the political sin of in-

Thompson, of course, made an all-out battle for a sales tax under ex-Governor Furcolo. But it is unlikely that he would be so ready to storm the ramparts for Peabody in a fight to raise the State income taxes unless he had strong political reasons for doing so.

Some Beacon Hill observers jumped to the conclusion that Thompson does not intend to stand for reelection to the House next year. They base that opinion on his action in siding with Peabody and taking a stand which may hurt him in his own legislative

That may or may not be the case. Thompson presumably realizes the bill will be rejected and that there is no danger he will be obliged to assume part of the responsibility for placing on the books the new income tax law Peabody desires.

It can be politically expedient to go all-out in a losing cause, as Thompson is doing.

Democratic State Committee Chairman Doherty

pulied the prize political boner when he announced that he will make Peabody's tax plan a party issue. As head of the official Democratic State organiza-

Commends 'Coming Events'

The Newton Graphic

Gentlemen:
Your "Coming Events" column serves an important func-tion in the community, by acting as a clearing house for the city's organizations.

However, there have been several recent occasions where groups have considered calendars rather lightly. One saw a local PTA group shoved aside in favor of an activity of one of the two High Schools. The other occurred recently, when the School Committee changed its meeting place, but neglected to change the cal-endar, or even leave word on the door of the usual location. I would commend to all the value of such a central clear ing house and the impor-ance of not mistreating it or taking it for granted.

Perhaps this letter will help to get the message across to those concerned, and to promote the increased usage of "Coming Events" in "Graphic".

Sincerely yours, Theodore G. Green 41 Daniel Street Newton Centre

At Newton Savings, we like helping people ... and these are some of the people who've helped thousands of customers become homeowners

They know how important it is to you to have personal service...sound advice... financing you can live with during the years.

They're "local" people, interested in seeing that each of you who comes to us for home financing gets the best of service at this local bank.

These people are always ready to discuss your plans for home ownership... and each of them invites you to drop in at any stage of your home-buying plans. With them, it's more than a job ... it's an opportunity to help you make a big investment in happiness for your family.

One of three cars reported stolen last Friday was re-covered in Needham. It was the property of Harvey A. Murphy, of Needham, who reported it stolen from 1068 Chestnut St., Newton Upper Falls.

Vandals struck again at the MTA, breaking windows of three cars by stones thrown from the Boylston St. bridge, Newton Highlands.

A two-way radio transmitter was taken from an oil truck in the parking lot of Our Lady's Church.

Police Capt. William J. Burke went to Concord, N. H., to bring back the driver of a station wagon recovered there Mar. 7. It was reported stolen by its owner, Sebastian D. Di-Felice, 24 John St., Newton Centre.

Meantime, the work of police was not without results. In Newton District Court Sat-urday, three teen-agers were held in $2000 each, and their case was continued to Mar. 28. They were charged with assault on David Fitzgerald, 4 Maplewood Ave., Newton Centre, who was set upon by them outside the Free Library on Centre St., when he warned them against bothering a woman librarian.

A Waban youth was held in $5000 on two burglary charges that followed a Newton High-land service station break last September and another at the M. C. Jewell Company, Mewtonville.

PTA Council Discusses Aid To Education

The Newton PTA Council at its meeting last week went on record in favor of increased state aid to education. The meeting, with Council President Robert Ward in the chair, dent Robert Ward in the chair, was in large part given over the Janet Stuart Guild on the Council President Robert Ward in the Council President Robert Ward in the Council President Robert Ward Council President Robert Rober was in large part given over to the discussion of various bills now before the legisla-College of the Sacred Heart.

passed a resolution favoring the provisions of the State Aid Manday's to Education bill which will improve the distribution state support for public and vocational schools by increasing it to an overall state average of 40 percent for operating school costs. The original bil includes an endorsement of a 2 percent limited sales tax.

However, the Council did not endorse the part of the bill which was devoted to the financing of this increased aid, but favored instead, an increase in the state income tax.

School Committee Chairman Haskell Freedman, principa speaker at the meeting, also discussed State Aid to Education. He described in some de tail both state and federal aid to schools. He also had high praise for the cooperation the schools in Newton from the PTA Council.

The Council also heard a report from Mrs. Irving Finsen, its library coordinator, who discussed the elementary school libraries in Newton These libraries are staffed, for the most part, by PTA volun-teers. The report indicated a great variance in the numbers of books at the well as suitability of rooms and availability of personnel.

Arthur Laughland, vice president of the Council and principal of the Hyde School gave a brief summary of recent activities and publica-tions of the State PTA organization. He recommended of their books, "Looking In On Your Community."

Galvin Would Cut Spending And Council's Power

Newton's Senator, Michael J. Galvin went on the war-path Monday over two matters he considers of vital importance to the residents of this Commonwealth.

One of them was a bill he filed that would put power in the hands of a governor by eliminting the long-standing set-up by which the Executive set-up by which the executive Council passes on guberna-torial appointments of the commissioners of important state agencies, namely the departments of public public safety, agriculture and commerce. Strong endorse-ment of the measure developed at a legislative committee

The other matter led him make serious charges on the floor of the Senate after filing an order to establish a "Baby McLellan Committee" that would comprise five Senators. His allegations: That better control was needed over state agencies whose to spend huge sums constitutes an invitation to inefficiency, if not corruption. The "dangerous situation," he said, results from he said, results from the fact that the Legislature exercises little if any supervision over the manner in which the agencies handle public

Under the Galvin order, the proposed committee would have authority to investigate an agency "for the purpose of assisting the Senate in appraising the administration praising the administration of existing laws and in developing amendments that may be deemed advisable or further action to the Senate Committee on Rules.

Margaret Heckler Becomes GOP Sensation Overnight

A first-term women member of the Governor's Council became a political sensation overnight by serving public notice that she really meant the things she said in her campaign last fall about being against political wheeling, dealing and trading.

It was like a breath of fresh air suddenly blowing through a smoke-filled room.

Candidates say a lot of things and make many promises when they're pleading for votes in a cam-paign. Most of them forget what they said before the job of counting the ballots is finished.

Governor's Councillor Margaret Heckler, it seems, is cut from a different bolt of political cloth. She meant what she said when she was running for office last September and October, and she's practising her own political preaching. People who had never even heard of Mrs. Heckler or who had paid only casual notice to her election to the Executive Council sat up in respectful attention. She's just one woman and a lone Republican in a nine-member Governor's Council which includes some of the most accomplished politicians in Massachusetts.

But she made her voice heard from one end of the Commonwealth to the other, and the people

An impressive array of lo-cal, state and national dignitaries will be in attendance at this dinner, the fifth in the current series, and one which will find two recipients of the coveted Chamber of Com-merce Achievement Award.

Two noted educators will receive the award this year, Dr Abram Leon Sachar, president of Brandeis University, and the Very Rev. Michael P. Walsh, S. J., president of Boston College.

The principal address will be given by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, former Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, and president of the American Red Cross. Last year's achievement award winner was U. S. Sen-ator Leverett Saltonstall. The speaker was Admiral Hyman G. Rickover Rickover. Dr. Sachar and Very Rev. Walsh were selected as the re-cipients of this year's Achievement Award based on

A tremendous turnout is expected when the Board of Aldermen holds a public hearing at City Hall a week from next Monday night, April 1, on a petition or the adoption of a new city ordinance which would rohibit dogs from running at large in Newton.

A large number of residents have indicated their intention of attending the hearing to support a move started by Mrs. Marjorie L. Edenfeld of 120 Dedham st., Newton Highlands, for the enactment of a so-called dog leash law.

Opponents of the proposal also will show up in force, as they did five years ago when a similar petition was rejected by the Aldermen after an overflow hearing.

Alderman Harry H. Ham, Jr., chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, who recommended that the April 1 hearing be held by the full Aldermanic Board rather than by his committee, made it plain that he design that he it plain that he anticipates In Auburndale a prolonged session.

The matter of the bridge involved the so-called "horse trade" whereby the city would acquire country club land at no cost for Nahanton St. widening, and in return would build the span at no cost to the club so its golf members could travel from one part of the course to another without having to buck Nahanton St. traffic.

Political Highlights

When she had finished talking and cast her vote, Governor Peabody had suffered his first major defeat at the hands of the Executive Council which he would like to aboiish.

Mrs. Heckler declared that the job shuffle involv-ing Registrar of Motor Vehicles Clement A. Riley and Representative Paul C. Menton was the kind of political wheeling and dealing she had attacked in her campaign last fali and that she intended to vote against both ends of the deal.

Despite the pious protestations and explanations from the Governor's office, Mrs. Heckler was entire-

If Peabody's plan for shifting Riley to the posi-tion Menton's father was vacating on the State Parole Board and then moving Menton in as Registrar of Motor Vehicles wasn't a deal, then this onlooker doesn't understand what a political deal is.

Peabody himself justified Mrs. Heckler's position and made it apparent that it was an even more blatant deal than was originally supposed when he became the became with ice chunks and sticks deal than was originally supposed when he became incensed because Riley did not deliver some votes in the Council to Menton as part of the deal. Now Peabody, after working himself into an embarrassing predicament, is dropping half the deal at least temporarily and is asking Mrs. Heckler, a Republican, to extricate him from his predicament by approving the other half of the deal and voting for the appointment of Menton.

Mrs. Heckler, who is a novice in politics but possessed of an abundance of common sense, is thinking that over and isn't going to be stampeded by Peabody or anyone else into making her decision hastily. If a speedy showdown is forced on another vote on Menton, she'll record herself against him a second time.

For one thing she's still not convinced that Menton's appointment may not be part of a delayed deal, with one or more installments scheduled after Menton's confirmation. For another she's not too impressed by Menton's administrative experience and feels he might be better qualified for some position in the State government other than that of Motor Vehicles Registrar.

Protect Dogs From Humans

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on your article regarding Mrs. Edenfeld's petition for a dog leash law. Poor Mrs. Edenfeld — heart is with her, but she is fighting a losing battle. The April First meeting will packed with dog lovers—mili-tant, defiant and courageous defenders of the canine world -ready to do battle against those barbarous, uncouth and unfeeling people who have the foolish idea that a dog does not have quite the same rights as a human.

Of course, those poor people are quite naive and mis-guided. The "dog lovers" have so "inherited the earth" that, somehow, all sense of proportion on this issue has been

Would not a human (child or adult) be arrested if he went around knocking over barrels on collection day? Would he not be restrained if he annoyed or bit little children on the way to school or at play? Would he not be cen-sured for dirtying lawns and digging pot holes on other people's property? The list of indignities is endless. But, alas, Mrs. Edenfeld is on the wrong side. She would have better luck if she were championing a law to protect dogs against humans.

Sincerely. Mrs. Daniel Vershbow, 15 Mignon Road West Newton, Mass.

NO MATTER WHERE YOU BANK IN THE U.S.A. THIS NEW FEDERAL LAW AFFECTS

Open Message To All Depositors Of All The Newton Banks

The new Federal Law #87-397, states that commencing this year, every bank in the United States must report the names and addresses of ALL depositors to whom $10 or more in interest or dividends is paid or credited.

In addition, each bank must secure Social Security numbers from its depositors and include these with each report of dividends

The Law states that failure on the part of any bank to comply will make it liable to fine on each count — and that all depositors are required under the law to cooperate and supply their banks with their Social Security numbers.

If a depositor does not have a Social Security number, he should apply to his bank for a form to send to the Internal Revenue Service. The Internal Revenue Service will then forward the depositor a Social Security number which he should then take to his bank.

We are very pleased to cooperate with the Government in bringing this message to the attention of our customers.

Instruction For Young And Old In Varied Fields

Registration is underway for a wide variety of activities offered by the Newton Com-munity Center, it was an nounced by Anthony J. Bibbo, executive director.

The Nursery School program, designed to meet in dividual needs, with the min-imum age three, is conducted 8:45 to 11:45 a.m. Monday through Friday, with holiday and vacation schedule the same as in the public schools. Pick-up and return service is available.

The Women's Sewiing groups meet at the Center Wednesday mornings. Classes will get underway in early April and be under the directions. tion of Mrs. Marie Ricco. Another popular activity which has a few openings is the Golf School conducted Wednesday evenings by Dan Meany. The school is broken down into classes, with each meeting for a one-hour period. Each group is limited to six members to insure personal attention. The first class begins at 6:30 p.m and the last session gets underway at 9:30 p.m.

A new and exciting activity for youngsters will soon join the long list already under way at the Center. This will be a Sports Clinic under the di-rection of James Callahan.

The first of the eight lessons planned for the cake decorat ing class got off to a fine start under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Lucas. Despite stormy weather Mrs. Ivy Covington, Mrs. Lawrence Green, Mrs. Mel Heyman, Mrs. Winifred Houlihan, Mrs. Rita Jordan, Mrs. Theodore Korelitz, Mrs. Fran Moffie, Mrs. William Price, Mrs. Helen Robbins, and Mrs. Robert Stempler attend ed the opening session.

Highlight of the class was a drawing to determine who would take home a most decorative cake prepared by Lucas. Mrs. Winifred Houlihan of 299 Waltham St. West Newton, was the lucky winner

(NEW '63 MERCURY MARAUDER)

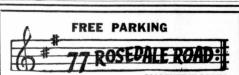

WE'RE TOPPING ONE

Mercury sales in New England have skyrocketed 54% over last year at this time. Your neighbors have virtually flipped over Mercury's exclusive power-operated rear window. The way it keeps the air fresh. The way it stays clear in bad weather. The way it doesn't steam up inside. All this plus Mercury's luxurious ride and performance (the standard engine is a whopping 390 V-8). Want more? You've got more. The just-announced Mercury Marauder. Sporty new roofline. Bucket seats, if you like. Power with a capital POW. So which will it be-Mercury or Mercury Marauder? Either way, you can have your cake and eat it.

Bible Lesson On 'Matter' To Be Given Sunday

A Bible lesson on the sub-ject of "Matter" will be read this Sunday at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton. Among the many scriptural selections will be this citation from II Corinthians (5:8): "We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord."

Other passages will bring out the Christian Science out the Christian Science teaching that all matter is a "graven image," a temporary limited, delusive sense of things that must finally give way before the consciousness of ultimate, spiritual reality created by God.
Included is this sentence from"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures' by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 14): "Become conscious for a sinmoment that Life and intelligence are purely spirtual, -neither in nor of matterand the body will then utter no complaints."

Guidance Clinic Here Seen Aid To Troubled Children

Establishment of a Child Guidance Clinic in Newton, to co-operate with, and supple-ment the work of, local nursery schools in the early detec-tion of children troubled with problems, is rapidly advance ing toward reality, it was brought out at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. S Roy Remar, 40 Algonquin road, Chestnut Hil.

According to Mr. and Mrs Kenneth Huberman, leaders in promoting the idea, prog-ress is being made as forward-looking citizens join the Newton chapter of Action for Mental Health in Children Inc., and city officials, edu-cators and clergy of all denominations join with psy-chiatrists in recognizing the urgent need for such a cen-

A primary aim of the clinic would be early diagnosis and treatment of the troubled child who, unlike the retarded child, has no known physical limitations, but who, for emotional reasons, is unable to live comfortably and socially in his every day life. Recogni-tion of the problem-beset child often leads to opportuniin life, and the ensuing treatment is, in effect preventative medicine.

Dr. Irving Kaufman, president of the New England Council of Child Psychiatrists and clinical director of the Youth Service Board under the Division of Technology (1997). the Division of Legal Medi-cine, would head the proposed clinic's advisory committee, which will comprise profes-sional persons in the field as members.

Among those attending the Chestnut Hill meeting were: Mrs. Edith Landau, Mrs. Ber-tram Litman, Mrs. Jerome Rothstein, Mrs. Benjamin Shapiro, Mrs. Samuel Silverman and Mrs. Shepard Yes-

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Friedman, 106 Annawan road, Waban, Wednesday, April 17 at 8

No Hike Seen In At Jr. College 1963 Tax Rate

Further evidence that there will be no hike this year in the city's tax rate was pointed to by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, whose examination of figures in the "Cherry Sheet," that estimates timates the amount New-ton will receive from the Commonwealth showed a net gain in the annual accounting that represents 77 cents on the tax rate.

There was an increase of $393,033 in credits to the city. An increase of $171. 753 in charges for state and county services left a net gain of $221,280 to the city.

'Decisions' To Close March 25

The final meeting of the Newton World Affairs Council "Great Decisions-1963" Series will be held Monday, March 25, at 8:00 p.m. in the Newton Junior College Libra-ry. The topic will be "PEACE — What Problems and Prospects?"

Dr. Emil E. Freniere, chairman of the Department of Humanities at the College, will be discussion leader. Some of the questions which will chal-lenge this group are: Is it feasible to continue to negotiate with Moscow? What are the major obstacles to a dis-armament agreement? What concessions, if any, should the United States make to reach an accord? Should there be ban?

At the conclusion of this series, participants will fill out opinion ballots which will be sent to the members of the Federal government in Wash-The Newton Ward 6 Demo-cratic Committee will meet at the Mason-Rice School, 149 Great Decisions Series. year moratorium on enforc-ing the death penalty should be legalized now," Repre-sentative Lorenz F. Muther,

Jr. (R-Newton) told the Joint Committee on the Judiciary at a State House hearing on bills to modify or abolish capital punishment.

Rep. Muther advocated his bill to make Massachusetts law like that of Rhode Island, where the death penalty is abolished except for persons convicted of first degree mur-der while they are already serving a life sentence. "Our present moratorium amounts to abolition in fact," he said.

"When a critical law is no longer implemented, one of two alternatives must be taken if citizen respect for law is to be preserved. Either the law must be changed or it must be strictly enforced," Rep. Muther asserted.

appropriation amounted only to $400 in personal services and contractural services. Alderman Wood explained that a cut of $666 in the City Clerk's department was recommended only be-cause a part of that department's work will be done by the election commission.

The cut for administration of public buildings was $2410, and represented slight salary adjustments only.

Cuts in the Fire and Police Dept. appropriations were a little less trivial. In the case of the Fire department, Alderman Wood explained that the committee had decided against requested $6800 item for a vocal communication system which, the committee maintained, was not essential as the other existing means of communications sufficied. Substantial salary increases asked in Police department were higher than warranted, the committee felt, and so the department's appropriation was cut from $1,168,455 to $1,144,844.

taken emergency action designed to produce a compromise solution in the current controversy over the pro-posed restraint of dogs in Newton.

As a result of this action, the PTA Council has sent the following letter to the New-ton Board of Aldermen:

"The Executive Board of the PTA Council, being concerned with the welfare of all children in the Newton schools, recognizes that there exists in Newton a safety problem with regard to the presence of dogs on school property and on routes to school. We sug-gest, as one possible solu-tion, that provision be made by the City Government to cooperate with the schools and to require more strinand to require more stringent enforcement of the present ordinances regarding the proper restraint and care of dogs. If more stringent enforcement does not solve the problem we recommend stricter ordinances involving fines."

Proponents Of Leash Law See Success Ahead

At a meeting held this week, Mrs. Marjorie L. Edenfeld, who has petitioned for the adoption of a city ordinance which would prohibit dogs from running at large in Newton, stated that those favoring Guitarist Will the Dog-Leash Law have good hopes that it will go through.

It was pointed out that this feeling is based in part on the fact that there are only 4,438 registered dogs here and the population is 92,384 so the number of dog owners is a small proportion. Also, the fact that there have been 1,672

Board Deadlock

One month ago, Dr. Charles
E. Brown, Newton School superintendent, assured the School Committee that in 30 days his staff would have ready a comprehensive report on what should be done with badly run-down Bigelow Junior High School, and Monday night his staff made good.

A capital outlay program proposed by the superintendent that contained a recommendation that 60 - year - old Bigelow be renovated at a cost of $1,300,000, and that the F.A. Day Junior High School get a $1,150,000 renovation, failed to get the committee's approval. The vote on it was a 44 deadlock.

The committee could not decide whether to marked a recommendation. The committee could not decide whether to marked a recommendation that 60.

In high school next year. I feel that I have a better idea. Because I've always wanted to be a hairdresser, I've asked my parents to let me leave school and go to work. This way I could go to hairdressing school nights. They won't hear school nights. They won't hear Don't you think they Absolutely no! I won't even try to prove that you are so lucky to have these wonderful parents. Your high school diploma will be one of the most valuable assets you will ever possess during the years ahead. Just try to remember that both the social and business world place rather a high value on education con-quests today. So be sure to work for your high school diploma and then follow through with your desired vocational aims.

"It permits us to communicate with a physician anywhere on the hospital's 19-acre plot, and direct him on the double wherever he is needed," said Director William S. Brines in discussing the new addition to the hospital's equipment. pital's equipment.

When a doctor enters the hospital, he trades his car keys for a small plastic receiver. The instrument fits handily in his pocket and "beeps" when he is needed. By lifting and turning over the receiver, the physician receives a voice message from a transmitter beside the hospital's switchboard.

Checking his car keys eliminates a traditional hazard—a doctor's tendency to ard — a doctor's tendency to concentrate so intensely on patient matters that he carries the receiver away.

"Because the system saves steps, it saves time," Mr. Brines said. "And when you save time in a hospital, you help make the total job of patient care more productive and more effective."

The hospital's 12 interns and residents carry receivers around the clock. Non-doctor users of the system are in-travenous therapy nurses, orderlies, and night super-

More National Honors Given Local Educator

If the plan — to give selected prospective administrators on the job training with outstanding principals—works as expected, the rate at which educational innovations find their way into the schools could be increased materially.

Behind the program is the Republicans, to be known as could be increased materially.

Behind the program is the idea that if the student understudies work with principals who sparkle with new ideas and new plans for improving education, the students will become more receptive to the new ideas. Later when they become principals of their own schools, they in turn will be open to new ideas, welcoming changes to speed and improve education.

Budget Or Not Jury Must Sit

Three Newton citizens have the dubious distinc-tion of being drawn for jury duty on the Board of Aldermen's busiest night of the year.

It was Budget Night. Monday, but before tackling the city's annual recommended expenditures, the city fathers took time out to draw three names, with Allard M. Valentine assigned
